

Paolo Mangiagalli

Paolo Mangiagalli recently joined Becton Dickinson as Advanced Technology Manager for the Pharmaceutical System business unit. He holds a Ph.D. in Solid State Physics from the University of Caen (France). After completing a post-doctoral position at the European Synchrotron Radiation Facility, he spent >10 years in microelectronics industry; he held different positions in technology and business development, bringing new concepts from innovation to market.